

Monkey and the Engineer

C F C
Once upon a time there was an engineer,
D7 G7
who drove a locomotive both far and near,
C F
Accompanied by a monkey who would sit on a C stool, D7 G7 C
watching everything the engineer would do.

C F C
One day the engineer wanted a bite to eat,
D7 G7
He left the monkey sitting in the driver's seat,
C
The monkey pulled the throttle
F C locomotive jumped the gun, D7 G7 C
and at 90 miles an hour down the main line run.

CHORUS

C F C
The big locomotive is right on time,
D7 G7
the big locomotive coming down the line,
C F C
The big locomotive number ninety-nine,
D7 G7 C
left the engineer with a worried mind.

C F C
The engineer got the dispatcher on the phone,
D7 G7
he told him all about his locomotive was gone,
C F C
he said get on the switch operator to right,
D7 G7
cause' the monkeys got the main line sewn up
tight.

C F C
The switch operator got the message in time,
D7
Said there's a north bound living on the same G7
main line,
C F
Open up the switch we gonna let him through C
the hole,
D7 G7
cause the monkey's got the locomotive under control.
